You just need to add a file, give it a name, select the encryption method and choose an encryption key from the list. You can have a look at the results in the preview window. KeyMACRO supports AES encryption method. This is the most secure one, but it needs more time to encrypt and decrypt. But you can choose any other method (AES, DES, 3DES, Blowfish and Twofish) to have faster results. KeyMACRO generates a unique encryption key for every file. The key is automatically saved along with the encryption. So, you don't need to keep changing the encryption keys every time you encrypt a file. KeyMACRO supports key file. I did not have time for such a matter. It did not have any importance to me. But it is important to other people. It is important to other people to know about their own e-mail addresses.
